

To Do List

Development is broken into short-term and long-term directions. We are interested in optimizing our methodology and are eager to hear from people with linguistics and education backgrounds to comment on our approach

Short-Term Goals

- We need a working prototype, be able to open an independent window and call an audio file.
- Scoring scheme for individual cards and user interface.
- Optimal number of cards for the learning decks.
- Graphic visualization for tones on each card.
- Pinyin and kanji for each card.
- Statistics on each card and on user usage.
- Main deck.

Long-Term Goals

- Make a database for the audio files.
- English recordings for mandarin speakers to practice english pronunciation.
- Simplified kanji.

Vocabulary Tables

Current vocabulary available organized by level

Card Selection Implementation

The choice of which card to test is crucial.